NOGALES HOME FOLKS

Are Honored Guests of a Nation for Eleven Days.

(El Paso Herald)

Guests of a nation for eleven days in the heart of Mexico, 188 members of the Oregon Inaugural, Nogales Home Folks Special train which left El Paso November 27 for Mexico City, returning to the United States Wednesday morning en route to Nogales, Arizona.

The trip was made on personal invitation of President Alvaro Obregon. Of those who made the trip, half were personal friends of Obregon and 90 per cent acquaintances of the president in his revolutionary campaign.

At the capitol the party was personally entertained by President and Mrs. Obregon. The members were greeted at the Colonia station in Mexico City on arrival November 29. Beginning the next day the time of the excursionists was filled from morning till night with a continual round of trips, lunches and dinners given by President and Mrs. Obregon and officials of the national chambers of commerce of Mexico.

While guests of the Mexican government, the party was given full opportunity to witness the grandeur of the ancient Mexican capital and environs. Transportation was provided by the government for all trips, including all needs, from motor cars to special Pullman trains.

The unvarying courtesy and consideration shown the party gave its members a new understanding of the Mexican people. Visits to various cities en route to and from the capital city enabled American visitors to grasp an understanding and comprehension of Mexico's needs and problems which caused them to leave the hospitable nation with a keen desire to see that amicable and peaceful relations between the United States and Mexico are developed to the greatest extent and to voice opinion that the United States should recognize Mexico at the earliest possible moment.

Without exception, members of the party stated that they believe General Obregon is the one man in Mexico who can maintain internal as well as international peace and prosperity.

Obregon's fearlessness was vividly illustrated to the visitors in the free manner in which he traversed the city at all times without a guard. He rode in an open car in the parade preceding the inauguration without guards. He attended the bullfight Sunday alone and sat with the people in one of the lower seats of the vast hippodrome.

Members of the party were provided free tickets for this event and attended in large numbers.

The first big event of the program of entertainment for the Nogales party was the inaugural dinner given November 29, at which the Nogales guests were given distinction. Bracey Curtis president of the Nogales, Arizona chamber of commerce, sat next to President Obregon at this dinner. It was a brilliant affair, much vividness being conferred upon the scene by the imported gowns of the beautiful women and the uniforms of the diplomatic corps.
